

Friends of St Edward's Theatre Evening

Fragment

Wednesday 16th May 2018

- 7pm Directors' Talk and Drinks Reception in the Dance Studio
- 8pm Performance in The North Wall

Co-Directors of The North Wall, John Hoggarth and Ria Parry, collaborate with composer and Kneehigh Associate Dom Coyote, and Iron Shoes associate designers James Button and David W Kidd on this new piece of gig-theatre about love, loss and heartache. The production features original songs of redemption and recovery written and performed by acclaimed composer Dom Coyote.

Set in Redcar, against the backdrop of the collapse of the steel industry, Fragment takes the audience on a musical voyage through the life of Lester Fall, a painter and decorator returning home to face his demons, and attempting to put back together the pieces of a broken heart.

'Dom Coyote knocks my socks off! With a voice like a fallen angel, he takes us to heaven and hell.' (Emma Rice)

The event costs £14 and can be booked directly with The North Wall by telephoning 01865 319450. This includes your drinks, the talk and an exclusive Parents' Pass discounted ticket to the performance.
