St Edward's School is committed to supporting the welfare and emotional needs of all its pupils. The school recognises, that at times, pupils will need to talk to someone in confidence. The School's aim is to provide our pupils with a range of people who they can turn to for confidential help and advice.

Roles and responsibilities

The Chaplains, who are well known to the pupils through his work at the school and during house visits.

The Counsellors. All pupils meet with the counsellors during their induction into the school. The counsellors also work in the houses from time to time when invited in by the HM. The Counsellors are not employed by the school and are therefore independent of the School and not members of the teaching staff.

The Independent Listener, Rev Gavin Knight, who is the vicar of our local church. He is an ex-school chaplain.

The contact details of above are available on the house notice boards.
